Pioneer Line of Steamers

FOR

Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, via Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS PIONEER and Commodore Adams, will leave Newberne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each week at 8 o'clock A M, connecting with the different lines of steamers for the above-named points. On and after the first day of December next they will leave on Tuesday and Friday of each week, making semi-weekly trips. Shippers of Goods will receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different companies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay. Each of these steamers are capable of carrying through the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE ROOMS and BERTHS capable of accommodating thirty-five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without charge.

The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families traveling will find it to their interest to take this line, as they will thereby escape the danger and discomfort of a sea route, and the fatigue of railroad travel.

On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer Williams will be put on the route, and tri-weekly trips will be made.

For freight or passage apply to Whitford, Dill & Co., Newbern, N C.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

What Shall We Do?

[illegible] says, 'Had our people acted [illegible] have got back into the Union [illegible] from military rule; but as it is, [illegible] will be continued until they behave [illegible]."

No people on earth have ever tried harder than the people of North Carolina to behave themselves decorously towards their government—both State and Federal. What have they not done? They have done all that was put down in the programme for abolishing slavery. They have done more than had been said to be necessary in the manner of the repeal of the act of secession of 1861.

They have also done quite as much as it was understood would meet the President's wishes about the war debt repudiation. They have taken every oath that has been offered to support the Government. They universally affirm that they are entirely loyal in their designs towards the Government—and that in every possible shape and manner of affirmation. But still there is always a hitch somewhere. Where is it? We wish to get back into the Union. We wish to see our old State again on her legs, as a full and perfect member of the Federal Union. Have we not yet learned the lesson right? If not, how is it? Will our cotemporary become our instructor and master of ceremonies in the true art and mystery of good behaviour? Will it act as our political Gamaliel? Will it deal by us fairly or will it issue doubtful and bewildering utterances?—Will it be sure that it can distinguish between Government and the men who control or aspire to control it? Is a difference of opinion with the one to mean hostility and contempt for the other; vice versa, or how? Confusions on questions such as this, has caused great trouble to some weak mind.

But what can we do? If Governor Holden had been elected Governor, would we then have gone back? If he had been made Senator, would we have got in then? Will John Pool get in? And if Lehman had been elected in Newbern District to Congress, instead of Mr. Clarke, would he have been received? If Mr. Russ had gone from this District, could he have held up his head in Washington City? Surely somebody might tell us poor sinners what we could do, or omit to do, to find acceptance, and not be eternally ding-dong-ing at us about our behaviour, while left in the dark, as to how we can behave, and what we have got to behave about.

We have said all we could say, to prove our loyalty. We have sworn all we could swear. We have done all that we were required to do, promptly and almost unanimously. Will our cotemporary instruct us specifically what more to say, or swear, or do, that we may be so fortunate as to get its indorsement of our good behaviour?

The Lunatic Asylum.

We learn that our brief article in Saturday's issue, has been misunderstood and perverted.—The little information which we had upon the subject, made on us the impression that the movement was wholly political, and was designed by those legislators who were privy to the arrangement, simply as a manœuver to remove one good man from his position to put another in, on political grounds. It was with this view we censured the action; our motto being, that except in offices of a political character, no man should be removed from a position such as a judge, superintendent of an Asylum, &c., all things else being equal, merely for political reasons, to make way for another. No word or idea of that article was designed to reflect upon the personal or professional character, of any person directly or indirectly connected with the whole matter.

Since writing the above, we have had a full conversation with the Chairman of the Committee on the Asylum, who assures us that so far as the Committee are concerned in the selection of Directors, no political purpose influenced their action, nor did they look to the interests of any party or individual, but the sole object was to appoint such a Board of Directors as would carefully investigate and overlook the affairs of the institution.

Counting the Votes.

The votes in the late election for Governor were counted on Saturday before the General Assembly, and Mr. Worth declared duly elected by a majority of 5,939 votes. The votes of several counties were not counted. The order for administering the oaths of office to the Governor elect was rescinded, in view of the ordinance of the Convention and the continuance of the Provisional government.

Coming Down.

"We have never believed and do not now believe either the President or Congress desires to force negro suffrage upon us as a condition precedent to reconstruction."

So says a late issue of one of our city dailies. It used to talk very strongly on that vital question—and with very high indignation we believe during the last canvass. Now, after the election it is "does not believe" that we shall have that precious dose to swallow, "as a condition precedent" &c. Soon we fear it can disbelieve no longer, as far as Congress is concerned. What will that paper say then? Where will be its indignation then? Bottled up, we predict.

Adjutant General.

We learn that Gen. Wm. E. Mann of Pasquotank, will be a candidate for this position before the Legislature. Gen. M. has devoted a good deal of attention to the organization of the militia, and would no doubt make a good officer.

Rev. Dr. Deems.

"The Watchman."—A late New York paper says:

"We are glad to learn that this paper is about to be published in this city, under the editorial management of the Rev. Dr. Deems, a gentleman of distinguished ability and learning, and of exalted personal character and well known piety.

A correspondent suggests that the Conference to which the Reverend Doctor belongs, ought to make some arrangements by which he might obtain the charge of a congregation in this city. We are very sure that there are many here, even among those who belong to other churches, who hope that this suggestion may be favorably acted upon, and who would become constant members of his congregation if one shall be organized."

Extract from Gov. Orr's Message.

Gov. Orr, the newly elected Governor of South Carolina, was inaugurated a few days ago. The following extract from his message will do for preservation:

The State is now just entering upon a new and untried career, where there is much to hope for and not a little to fear. All of our old landmarks in politics have been swept off by the fires of war.—Our social and industrial systems have perished from the same unrelenting and unpitying cause.—Some of our most distinguished citizens, and many of the promising young men have fallen martyrs to the ancient principles of South Carolina. Grief over the biers of the loved ones has filled every household, and the tears of the widow and the orphan have bedewed every hearthstone. And yet, amid this general wreck in all the relations of life, it would be unmanly to despond. The highest courage and the sternest fortitude is demanded wherever the heaviest calamities overtake or threaten to engulph us.

The people of South Carolina seceded from the Federal Union under an earnest and honest conviction that they had the Constitutional right so to do; and they were equally earnest and honest in the conviction that their interest and the security of a very large property in slaves required them to resort to this extreme measure. Other States united with her to set up a new Government. The Executive, the Legislature, and the Judiciary Departments of the United States Government all denied the right we had asserted, and war ensued. All parties knew that slavery was the real foundation of the collision between the sections. The South engaged in it to preserve and perpetuate it; the North to destroy it. Four years of bloody, desolating war was spent in settling the issue, which had been committed to the arbitrament of the sword, and that High Tribunal from which there is no earthly appeal, decided the cause against us. It was a final, irreversible decree. We were exhausted, our armies surrendered, our last available recruit was sent to the front, and our resources were all consumed. We succumbed to the power of the United States, and under the wise and magnanimous policy of President Johnson we will, I hope and believe, very soon be restored to all our personal and political rights in the Federal Union, on terms of perfect equality with all the States of that powerful sisterhood.

The war has decided first: That one or more of the States of the Federal Union have not the right at will, to secede therefrom. The doctrine of secession, which was held to be orthodox in the States Rights school of politics, is now exploded for any practical purpose. The theory of absolute sovereignty of a State of the Federal Union (from whence was derived the right to secede) which was believed almost universally to be a constitutional construction, must also be materially modified to conform to this imposing decision. In all the powers granted in the Constitution of the Federal Government, it is supreme and sovereign, and must be obeyed and respected accordingly. Where the rights of a State are disregarded, or unconstitutional acts done by any department of the Federal Government, redress can no longer be sought by interposing the sovereignty of the State, either for nullification or secession; but the remedy is by petition or remonstrance; by reason, which will sooner or later overtake justice; by an appeal to the supreme judicial power of the Union; or by revolution which if unsuccessful, is treason.

The decision was far more imposing and obligatory than if it had been pronounced by the Supreme Court of the United States. Had it been tried there, an effort to reverse it might have been made, because its members and opinions often change.—But the God of Battles has pronounced an irreversible judgment after a long, desperate and sanguinary struggle, and it would be neither politic or patriotic ever again to invoke a new trial of the fearful issue.

The clemency which President Johnson has so generously extended to many of our citizens, in granting full and free pardon for participating in the late revolution, does honor to his statesmanship and to his sense of justice. He is the ruling power of a great and triumphant Government, and by his policy will attach by cords stronger than "tripple steel" the citizens of the entire section of the Union, to that Government which he has so long and so ably supported and maintained. He was well acquainted with the South—with her politics and politicians, and knew however erroneous in his judgment may have been their political principles, that they honestly entertained the sentiments which they professed, and for which they periled their all; and after failing in their end, when they proposed to return to their loyalty, that humanity and policy dictated that they should not be hunted down for ignominious punishment.

Interceding for Mr. Davis.

The Fortress Monroe correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes:

"One of the privates of the 20th Maine regiment who settled in North Carolina after the close of the rebellion, has reached here on his way to Washington to intercede for the pardon of Jeff. Davis, having travelled on foot to Norfolk. It seems that he was found within the rebel lines, captured, carried to the rebel headquarters, tried and convicted of being a spy, and sentenced to be hung. He asked to be allowed to write to Mr. Davis, and the request was granted. Having some doubts, however, of the intention of his captors, he bribed the rebel waiter to take another letter, and through a servant of the household of the rebel President, it reached him. The result was that a messenger was despatched with an order for the Yankee soldier to be taken immediately to the President's house. Upon his arrival the guard was dismissed with an order to return. It seems that while Jeff and wife tarried at Portland, previous to the war, this soldier rendered Mr. D. some service, which he acquitted by saving the life of the soldier. Now the latter is on his way to intercede for his deliverer."

We see that a bid has been accepted by the Post Office Department for a mail from Raleigh to Fayetteville six times per week.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

SATURDAY, Dec. 9th, 1865.

Prayer by the Rev. Henry Hardie of the Presbyterian church.

The Senate concurred in the proposition of the House to go into the election of seven counsellors of State on Monday next at 12 o'clock.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Morehead as the teller on the part of the Senate to compare and count the vote for Governor.

Mr. Warren from the committee on the Judiciary, reported back adversely the resolution of Mr. Gash, concerning the establishment of a penitentiary.

Also adversely to the bill heretofore introduced by Mr. McCleese, to establish a homestead freehold.

Mr. Bynum from the same committee, submitted the following report, viz:

The majority of the committee on the Judiciary, to which was referred the joint resolution of this General Assembly touching the amendment to the Constitution of the United States ratified at the present session, and known as the thirteenth article, having considered the same, beg leave to report:

The General Assembly has ratified the following amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to wit:

"Sec. 1. Neither slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Sec. II. Congress shall have power to enforce this Article by appropriate legislation."

It is clear that no after action of this body can change the legal effect of this amendment, or enlarge or restrict the powers of Congress, conferred either by the first or second section thereof. The subject has passed beyond the control of this body, and has become a matter of judicial interpretation only.

It is plain to this committee and to the people of North Carolina, and, as this committee believes, to every fair-minded statesman or jurist, North or South, that this amendment confers no power on Congress to legislate upon the subject of freedmen within the States. While, however, the legal effect of this amendment is so plain to us, the majority of the committee cannot shut their eyes to contemporaneous history. The power to legislate within the States, founded on this amendment, is now claimed, in and out of Congress, by statesmen and lawyers eminent for their abilities and formidable for their numbers, zeal and influence.

The tribunal appointed by the constitution for its own interpretation, has not always proved a barrier to legislative encroachment; nor can a majority of this committee undertake to say that it will hereafter prove a safeguard to the reserved rights of the States.

Mindful, therefore, of the encroachments of power, of the momentous issues involved, and conscious of the rectitude of their own intentions, the majority of the committee, in discharge of a plain duty to themselves, to posterity and to truth of history, desire to spread before the country, in the most solemn form, the sense in which they and, as they believe, the people of the State thro' them, have accepted and ratified this amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

They therefore report back and recommend the adoption of the following joint resolution.

W. P. BYNUM,
For Majority of the Committee.

Resolved, That by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, that we have accepted and ratified the said amendment, in the sense given to it by the Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States, to wit: that it does not enlarge the powers of Congress to legislate on the subject of freedmen within the States.

The report was filed, and on motion of Mr. Leitch of Robeson, ordered to be printed, and made the special order for Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

Mr. Ferebee from the committee on military affairs said, that the committee in obedience to a resolution introduced by the Senator from Union [Mr. Covington,] had called upon Gen. Ruger, commanding the Department of N. C., but waiting some time and not being able to see that officer, had left a copy of the resolution, with a request that an early answer should be given thereto. As yet none had been received. The committee had acted promptly in the matter, and they desired not to be thought to be, neglectful of so important a matter, failing to make a report.

Mr Wiggins from the committee on Finance reported favorably on the bill to abolish the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, and transferring the duties thereof to the Comptroller with an amendment giving him one clerk, with a salary of twelve hundred dollars.

Mr. Wilson from the Judiciary committee, reported back the bill to amend chapter, 33d of the Revised Code (giving five Judges to the Supreme Court) recommending that it be postponed until the adjourned session.

Mr. Jones of Columbus, introduced a resolution proposing to raise a joint committee to inquire into the ownership of the Piedmont Railroad, and to report the charter, if any, under which it was incorporated, the stockholders therein, with what funds it was built, how they were supplied with funds, and especially the property in said company which belonged to the Confederate States, and to individuals, and that further proposes, the committee have power to send for persons and papers, to examine witnesses on oath, if necessary, and to report to this or the adjourned session of the Legislature.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Latham introduced a bill providing for the holding of Courts in the county of Washington, which passed its first reading.

Mr. Bynum introduced a bill, which upon motion of Mr Bogle, was referred to the committee on the Judiciary, for the relief of such persons as may suffer from the destruction of records and other documents.

Mr. Blount from the committee on Propositions and Grievances reported back, with a favorable recommendation, a bill exempting certain hands from working on the public roads.

The bill was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Latham introduced a bill for the relief of such persons as may suffer from the burning of the Court House and records of Washington county, which on motion made by Mr. Latham to suspend the rules, passed its several readings and was ordered to be engrossed.

A message was received from the House proposing to rescind the joint order providing for the administration of the oaths of office to the Governor elect when the votes are counted.

Mr. Wilson said that he had the honor of introducing the resolution, upon which the General Assembly had agreed to administer the oaths of office to the Governor elect. He did so through no disrespect to the Provisional Governor, but from a sense of duty. He belived it right and proper then and he thought so now.—Mr. W. read from the ordinance of the Convention and the Constitution of the State, showing the necessity for such action now. His only intention was to provide against the chance of an interregnum in the office of Governor. The Legislature had, by joint vote, agreed to adjourn from Monday week to the first Monday in February. What if the Provisional Government should end during the recess? What would then be the condition of the State? It was proper, we should provide against the contingency, for no one knew the hour or day at which the Provional Government might expire. It was proper and legitimate that we should place the Governor elect in the condition to enter immediately upon the discharge of the duties of his office when ever this should occur. We would be derelict should we fail.

Mr. Warren thought that the two Houses had acted hastily in passing the resolutions. We do not know officially who is elected, and there will be time enough when that is ascertained to appoint the time for the administration of the oaths of office.

Mr. Leitch of Robeson, concurred with the Senator from Mecklenburg (Mr. Wilson.) There could be no possible objection to the administration of the oaths. I have not proposed to inaugurate the Governor elect, but merely to prevent any difficulty in the way of his entering into the discharge of the duties of his office, should the Provisional government expire during the recess of the General Assembly.

The message was concurred in.

The hour having arrived to compare and count the votes for Governor, the Senators repaired into the Hall of the House of Commons for that purpose. (See House proceedings.)

Upon the return to the Senate chamber Mr. Gash introduced a bill to amend an act passed at the session of 1848-49 to provide for a Turnpike road from Salisbury, and the bill was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Gash also introduced a resolution which was adopted, requiring the committee on Banks and Currency to enquire if there is any legislation necessary to enable the banks in the State to resume business or to wind up their affairs; also whether it would require any legislation to authorize the several Railroad Companies in the State to establish National Banks.

On motion of Mr. Bogle, the Senate adjourned until Monday morning 11 o'clock.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

SATURDAY, Dec. 9th, 1865.

House met at 10 o'clock A. M. according to adjournment. Prayer by Rev. Henry Hardie of the Presbyterian Church. The journals of yesterday were read and concurred in.

A committee on the Stay Law on the part of the House was announced as follows: Waugh, Farrow, Jones, McNair, and Whitley.

Mr. Manly from the Judiciary committee reported against a bill, giving exclusive jurisdiction of breaches of the peace to Superior Courts.

The same also reported and recommended its passage, a resolution inquiring whether all civil Courts can be re established at once, and if so, that Gov. Holden establish the Courts as soon as possible.

The same reported against a bill authorizing Justices of the Peace to levy taxes for certain purposes.

The same reported a bill incorporating Durham Academy and recommended its passage with an amendment.

Mr. Hoke from the committee on Internal Improvements reported a bill for building a Railroad bridge over the Roanoke, and recommended its passage.

The same reported a bill in reference to the Western Turnpike Railroad, and that it be referred the committee on Cherokee lands. Ordered to be referred.

The same reported back a bill for building bridge across French Broad river, and favored its passage with an amendment.

Mr. Smith of Hertford, from the committee on Finance, reported a bill for the relief of the holders of State Bonds in connection with the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad and recommending its passage.

Mr. Thompson moved a suspension of the rules that this bill might pass its second and third readings.

Mr. Gaines thought this an important bill and should not be acted on so hastily.

Mr. Cowan hoped the rules would be suspended that the bill might pass at once. The Legislature would adjourn on next Monday week, and that it was highly important to all concerned, that this action be had before the 1st of January, or the interest of the road and the interest of the State in the road would suffer. That these State bonds were authorized and provided for before the act of secession, although executed afterwards, as matter of convenience and accident, and that the Convention in its ordinance of non-assumption of the war debt, clearly did not embrace these bonds.

Mr. Faircloth of Wayne, did not object particularly to the passage of this bill, but wished to know more of the matter, and not act hastily on such important business, and thought it necessary to have fuller information of the character of the Bonds and whether the conditions on which they were issued, transferred, &c., were complied with.

On the question whether to suspend the rules that the bill might pass, the Speaker announced yeas 43, nays 33. So the House refused to suspend.

On motion of Mr. Faircloth of Wayne, the bill was ordered to be printed, and to be the special order next Tuesday 11 o'clock.

Mr. Smith of Hertford, from finance committee, a bill to provide for paying the State debt before the war. Recommends the Treasurer, after 1st of January, 1866, to issue Bonds of $100 $500 and $1,000, to the extent of three and a half millions—to run for 35 years at 6 per cent.

Mr. Smith of Hertford, moved a suspension of the rules that the bill might pass its second and third reading. On the question to suspend, were yeas 56, nays 19. Rules suspended and the bill passed its second and third reading.

The same reported against a bill authorizing the State to assume and pay U. S. land tax.

Mr. Waugh moved that the report be laid on the table. Agreed to.

Mr. Waugh from the committee on Private Bills, a resolution that a message be sent to the Senate to rescind so much of the action of both Houses yesterday as refers to administering the oath of office to the Governor elect. Mr. Waugh thought the Legislature had put in above the ford, in providing for oath of office, installation and all that before it was even known officially who was elected. After an interesting debate in which Messrs. McKay, Russell and Everett took part, the yeas and nays were called on Mr. Waugh's resolution to rescind, and was as follows: Yeas 69, nays 24.

Mr. Hoke moved to reconsider the action of yesterday in appointing Trustees for the Insane Asylum, when Mr. Blackmer referred to the Revised Code on the subject, whereupon Mr. Hoke withdrew his motion.

A message from the Senate agreeing to elect Council of State next Monday.

A message from the Senate asks concurrence in an amendment to a bill providing relief and redress for the destruction of county records of Burke—embraces Sampson. Concurred in.

Message from Senate asks concurrence in the bill, providing for extension of the charter of the Bank of N. C.

Mr. Jenkins of Warren, a resolution inquiring whether larceny on 3rd offence should be punished with death. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

The same—a bill to make horse stealing punishable by death. Referred to same.—The same, a bill to punish with death any one attempting rape on white females. Referred to same.

Mr Gidney, a resolution instructing the Committee on Sealing to fix value of produce, instead of specie.

Mr. Garland, a bill for the relief of people of Yancey on account of public papers and records destroyed and carried away by soldiers and others.

A message from Senate with resolution to appoint a committee of three on part of the Senate, and five of the House, to inquire into the condition and ownership of the Piedmont Railroad.

Mr. Cameron, a memorial for the relief of Robert L. Ledbetter. Referred to the Judiciary committee.

The hour of 12 having arrived the Senate and House assembled in the Commons Hall, and proceeded to compare the recent vote for Governor in the several counties.

It appeared that the vote of Anson and Brunswick had not been returned to the Secretary of State, and the aggregate vote of the balance of the State is as follows:

For Jonathan Worth,	31,648
" W. W. Holden,	25,704
Worth's majority	5,939

Scattering 269. Whole vote 57,615.

Jonathan Worth was declared elected. After which the Senate returned to its own chamber.

A message from the Senate concurred in resolution rescinding the action of yesterday, providing for administering the oath of office to Governor Worth.

Mr. Blythe, a bill providing for electing Clerks and Master in Equity by the people, and to elect Clerks of Superior and County Courts next August for a term of four years.

Mr. Waugh, a resolution that Jonathan Worth, Governor elect, be installed and take his seat when the Provisional Government terminates. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Jenkins of Warren the House adjourned till next Monday at 10 o'clock A. M.

MOREHEAD CITY, Dec. 4th, '65.

Editor of Sentinel:—The usual quiet and peaceable citizens of Morehead are to-night excited and warlike on account of an event which occurred to-day.

It has been customary for sometime past for numbers of negro soldiers to congregate on the platform, and on the arrival of the train from Newbern, rush into the cars and so block up the doors and platform that it is with difficulty the passengers can make their exit, especially the ladies; besides many articles have been stolen in the line of umbrellas, parasols, and valises. It has become such a nuisance that the Mayor was petitioned to call on the citizens to prevent it, the police force not being sufficient. To day the Mayor requested Capt. Willet, the commandant of the post for aguard, which he refused. He then sent an order to the citizens to appear on the platform at train time, but few if any complied. Many I suppose having business which would not permit of their absence. At any rate our worthy Mayor (Mr. Baker) with the police was there in person and succeeded pretty effectually in preventing the negroes from storming (if I may use the word) the cars. This seems to have exasperated them, as shortly after the departure of the cars to the wharf, they received reinforcements armed with clubs and bricks, and as the Mayor was returning from the Post Office, assailed him with every description of abusive language, and called on the police and other white livered —— to come now and clear them off the platform. To all of which Mr. B took no notice, but seated himself quietly under the piazza of the hotel. The negroes seemed determined for a riot as they assailed every white man who passed, and as no one took any notice of them, at last threw a brick at Mr. B. which fortunately missed his head, but struck Mr. Fulford's leg. Mr. B., I believe has written to Gov. Holden, but what he has requested, or what advice asked, I am unable to state, but I sincerely trust the Governor may appoint such effective means as to prevent a repetition of such nuisances, or the citizens may take it into their own hands, when it is more than probable that there will be blood spilt on both sides, as the negroes are determined to "run this machine," as they term it.

I suppose no place in North Carolina suffers more from the insolence of the negroes than this, and I am certain no people give less cause for a collision between the blacks and whites, than the citizens of Morehead. Lawless gangs of negro soldiers patrol the streets nightly, armed with iron ram-rods and razors. But such a state of affairs cannot exist much longer, for if the officers will not control their negroes it is high time for the citizens to commence protecting themselves.

The Mayor has called a meeting of the citizens to-morrow, and if anything of note transpires you shall hear from me.

The S. S. Carolina which went ashore off this bar sometime since was sold at public auction to day to Mr. S. L. Dill, of Beaufort, for fifty dollars. U. S. O. M.

P. S The citizens met to-day, [Dec. 5] and drew up the following resolution and put it to vote, viz: Resolved, "That the question of guarding the train be postponed for three days, until we see what disposition will be made by the military to guard our citizens from outrage by the colored soldiers."

It passed unanimously in the affirmative.

Report of the Secretary of the Navy.

The report of the Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy, gives a comprehensive statement of the operations of the Navy, its present condition and future necessities. A concise report of the operations of the North Atlantic, South Atlantic and West Gulf squadrons is presented, together with the details of the reduction of the naval force at the close of the war. The number of vessels and crews on foreign service will not be greatly increased over those of former years, while the number of guns will be less; yet it is believed that the superiority of steam over sails for naval war vessels, and the improvements of ordnance, will give our force abroad greatly augmented efficiency and power. There are now the European, Brazil, East India and Pacific squadrons, in all 32 vessels. To these will be added the West India squadron, with nine vessels. We had in 1860 five squadrons on foreign stations, numbering 31 vessels, carrying 445 guns. At the present time we have on the several stations abroad 36 vessels, mounting 347 guns, and carrying 56 howitzers. Since the 4th of March, 1861, 418 vessels have been purchased, of which 313 were steamers, at a cost of $18,366,681 82, and of these there have been sold 346 vessels, for which the Government has received $5,621,809 27.

The Secretary recommends the enlargement of the Navy Yards at Boston and New York, to complete the yard at Mare Island on the Pacific, rebuild those of Norfolk and Pensacola, and sell the present restricted grounds at Philadelphia, after establishing a yard of sufficient capacity at League Island or some other proper location on the Delaware. He states that he omits any recommendation in regard to the yard at Kittery, because there are serious objections to it as a naval station, on account of its proximity to the ocean, which renders public property there insecure.

Midshipmen, it is recommended, should be appointed one half from enlisted apprentices of the navy, and the remainder from Congressional districts. The establishment of a naval academy on the Chesapeake is urged, as possessing superior advantages to any other place that can be selected.

The laws of December 21, 1861, and of July 16, 1862, directing that "the hours of labor and the rate of wages of the employees in the navy yards shall conform, as nearly as it is consistent with the public interest, with those of private establishments in the immediate vicinity of the respective yards, to be determined by the commandants of the navy yards, subject to the approval and revision of the Secretary of the Navy," the Secretary recommends should be repealed. It is also urged that the military and naval asylums be separate, and that whatever funds may remain in the treasury from fines or other causes specified in the fifth section of the act of March 3d, 1865, "to incorporate a national military and naval asylum" be set apart, not for one asylum, but for the two branches of the service. He also recommends that all fines, forfeitures, &c., derived from naval officers or seamen, may inure to the benefit of the men of the navy, irrespective of the asylum indicated in the act of last March, which is more appropriately adapted to the army.

The subject of the increase of salaries in the navy is presented for the favorable consideration of Congress.

The total expenses of this department from the 4th of March 1861, to the 30th of June, 1865, embracing a period of four years and four months, and covering not only the ordinary expenses of the navy, but such as have arisen in the purchase, construction and equipment of vessels, and in the maintenance of the large naval force required during the war, were $311,170,960 63—an average annual expenditure of $72,506,990.93. It is gratifying to note that the expenses of this department since the commencement of the war have been but nine and three-tenths per cent. of the expenditures of the government during the same time.

MARRIED,

On Thursday evening, November 30th, by Rev Jno Rumley, Mr. GEORGE W CHARLOTTE of Newbern, to Miss MAGGIE W MANSON, of Beaufort.

At the same time and place, by the same, Mr. THOS A ROBBINS, of Washington, N. C., to Miss VIRGINIA S MANSON, of Beaufort.

NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE,
M. E. Church, South.

FOURTH DAY—SATURDAY.

Conference opened with religious services conducted by Bishop Early, Revs. L. Shell, J. A. Cuninggim and W. H. Wheeler.

Minutes of yesterday read and corrected.

The committee on the case of Revs. L. Shell and N. A. H. Goddin, reported that the whole matter had been amicably adjusted and settled. Rev. Mr. Goddin was continued upon the Supernumerary list.

Rev. L. W. Martin was placed on the Supernumerary list.

Rev. Carson Parker's case was referred to his Presiding Elder for examination.

On motion of D. B. Nicholson, a committee was appointed, consisting of Revs. D. B. Nicholson, L. S. Burkhead, Dr. Craven, N. F. Reid and Thos. Guthrie, to prepare certain papers relating to the Wilmington Church.

On motion the following resolutions were received and laid on the table for consideration on Monday.

Resolved, That it is advisable that a Convention of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, should be held at as early a day as practicable.

Resolved, That the said Convention should be composed of delegates chosen by the Ministry and Laity.

Resolved, That the said Convention should be organized into two Houses; one House to be composed of Ministers, the other of Laymen; to be chosen in such form and manner as may be ordained by the General Conference.

Resolved, That all matters pertaining to the spiritual department of the Church should originate with the Ministerial House, and all matters pertaining to the temporal department should originate with the Lay House; and nothing should enter into the Organic Law of the Church without the sanction of a majority in each House.

Resolved, That the delegates of the North Carolina Conference to the next General Conference of our Church, be and they are hereby instructed to present these resolutions to that body, and urge the adoption of such measures as shall promptly carry into effect all the provisions of the foregoing resolutions.

IRA T. WYCHE,
WM. CLOSS.

The Bible and Educational committees made favorable reports upon Trinity College, Olin High School and Chicora Collegiate Institute.

James Minish, Local Deacon, was elected to Elders orders.

The report of committee on pastorate was laid on the table, and report of Sunday School committee recommitted for amendment.

Several matters elicited some debate, but for the most part the Conference has so far shown a decided preference for business in the stead of discussion.

On motion Conference adjourned.

Union of "The Straits," with the Radicals.

MR. EDITOR:—There seems to have been a strange bouleversement of parties of late with regard to the restoration of the Union. It cannot be forgotten that the Northern abolition party joined their voices with the unionists of that section, at the commencement of the national difficulties, and all were for the perpetuation of the Union. That was then the war cry. The design or desire to abolish slavery was either denied or concealed. President Lincoln expressly, repeatedly, and warmly disavowed any such intention. How stands this abolition party now? Slavery is abolished totally and forever, with the solemn sanction of the slave States in every form in which such abolition can be available. But where is now manifested that love for the Union, which was the war-cry in the North when raising their army? This same radical party now, if we may judge from its very first expressions of opinion in the Congress just opened, seem to a man, to oppose that Union which was once the object of their idolatry. The South has laid down its arms, and performed all that was required for its restoration, to the last jot and tittle. It has had its Conventions, called its Legislatures together, and promptly and almost unanimously, done all it could to return to the Union of our Fathers. It has submitted to a loss of at least two thirds of all it was worth in 1860, made concessions in every form to conciliate those whom it had offended, and humbled itself as freemen never humbled themselves before, in the hope that this self-abasement might be accepted as a sufficient atonement for their errors, and now stands with hat in hand at the door of the Congress of the United States, modestly if not humbly asking to prove their claims to the Union—and what is to be the result? How stand the Union-shriekers now? Do they love the Union as they used to? How do they show it? From all present appearances they are determined, that the broken Union shall not be restored at all—What has become of the battle-cries, "the Union must be preserved?" "the Union must be restored?" If they wish the Union to be preserved and restored, why do they stand at the door of Congress, hoarsely bawling "Procul! Oh, Procul! este profanis!" How can the Union be restored, when eleven great States are shut out, and by all manner of means per fas aut nefas kept out of what would really constitute the United States, for which they were fighting? Is the Union a mere idea to tickle their wild fancies, but when it comes to be put into force by acts, is it to be scouted and scorned? Are those who sincerely and bravely fought for the Union—and who were by no means abolitionists at first, now to be told that it was a farce—that they fought for a phantom? Is the great North-west to be told now, that their sons have been slaughtered by thousands for another purpose than that for which they rushed to the war? That the Union—the glorious Union for which alone they fought and bled and died, is to be no Union at all? That they were seduced into the war, by cunning appeals to their patriotism and love for the Union, and when this Union can now be restored in all its amplitude, that restoration is resisted and scoffed at, by those miserable mock philanthropists, who now insult their ashes by preventing the very Union for which they poured out their blood? If the war was for the Union, indeed, let the Union be preserved in its integrity.

But the South which was against the Union once, is now unanimously in in its favor. They have some excuse for their seeming inconsistency. There has been and is a pressing necessity for their change. They could not help it—They are a conquered people, and accept the change and are reconciled to it, because it is the best they can do. If their pride of consistency or of any thing else is humbled, they have some sense left, and well know that their interests lead them back to the point of their departure. Their inconsistency has the merit of being compulsory. That of the radicals is a voluntary act, unnecessarily cruel to us, unjust to the President, and insulting to the victorious army a great majority of whom fought, and could only have been induced to fight, for the Constitution and the Union as they were.

But while this change of sentiment at the North is greatly to be lamented, we have one on a small scale at home, equally remarkable, if not to be equally deplored. Here in North Carolina, we have been all for the Union—though we still preserved enough of our old independence of sentiment, to differ as to the best path which led to its restoration. A large portion of our people but by no means a majority, thought it best to practice all manner of prostrations in presence of the conquering power—to eat all the dirt they could find in the highway, over which the victorious army had marched—as the best means of recommending themselves to respectful consideration. They nominated themselves the "straitest sect." A larger portion of our citizens, equally desirous to be restored thought it decent to eat only so much dirt as might be positively required to accomplish that desirable object. They thought that if we did that, and only that, we would be even the more respected by those who claim to be free themselves. They thought that if in the language of a poet, "Who would rule freemen should themselves be free," the said ruling power might be more proud of their equal association in the government of affairs with men, bearing the port of freemen, than with men who had voluntarily thrown away that manly and noble bearing, which no true American should even desire in his own compeers. The "strait sect" were rather Pharisaical towards their brethren. They charged them with a wish to keep every body out of the Union as long as possible. Their papers in your city—one remarkably prudent and truthful in all its utterances, the other very impartial, though occasionally smitten with juvenility, both having no selfish object to accomplish, greatly distressed themselves about the sins of their lagging brothers, and hurried them up to the Union with whip and spur, and insinuations that the small end of the bayonets was very sharp, &c.

Presto! Since the 9th of November last, what a "change has come over the spirit &c?" Now it is not good to be in too great a hurry. We are not ready now. We are not sufficiently harmonised yet. We are mighty rebellious, much more so than we were six months ago—and before the election. The probation must be continued for a long time yet. We must be punished for not doing certain things which—and so forth. The "straitest sect" now are the precise individuals who don't want the Union yet. They love military rule much better for the present—a year or two longer perhaps. Those who are not of that favored "sect" do not really love the Union enough yet—though they say they do, and swear it. By keeping them under a year or two longer, and pricking them in arriere occasionally with the bayonet, they will learn to love it dearly, and become much more honest and trustworthy. By that time they will have become fit companions for freeman! Meanwhile the Provisional governments can go on swimmingly—ahem!—and VERY SATISFACTORILY to all around. They are rather better to some people—just for the present—than the Union itself. So think the Northern Black Republicans, and so think the North Carolina strait sect worthies, between whom there is just now a remarkable affiliation and community of feeling. They unite in abusing the people called copperheads. They unite in lauding and tickling each other—They unite in the desire to thwart the efforts making for a speedy restoration. But as to the glorious old Federal Union, such as the great Webster loved, they will have none of that, except in fragments and by piecemeal. Verily is this a precious and saintly brotherhood of Union shriekers actually arrayed and united against restoring the Union itself!

Some New York paper has it seems lately praised one of our city papers in every exalted terms, which laudation that press has very modestly republished and commended to the Sentinel and other copperhead prints.

A paper in Ohio also informs the world and the rest of mankind, that "Gov. Holden is the most tolerant of the Provisional Governors, a man of splendid abilities of great integrity of character, known to be a favorite of the President and fully committed to his policy of reconstruction, personally popular, and able to concentrate in himself the full strength of the Union element in the State." This is very pleasant news. But our delight is somewhat diminished by what follows:

"Elsewhere we publish the comments of the Raleigh press on the result of the election—They present a very gloomy view of the present condition of political affairs in the State, and a more cheerless prospect for the future. It is to be hoped they have somewhat over-colored the picture. But if it is a fair representation of the condition of things, there can be but very little doubt that a provisional government will be maintained in North Carolina for a long time to come. The disloyal element is, by these accounts, more active, more bitter, and more intractable there than in any of the cotton States, and will have to be restrained by the strong hand of power."

This is the gist of the matter. This "long time to come," notwithstanding the mock regrets expressed, during which we will "have to be restrained by the strong hand of power" is music to the ears of the "straites sect," and proves its power to sooth the savage breast."—There was once a character of splendid abilities but no great integrity, who deemed it "better to reign in Hell than serve in Heaven."

Report of the Secretary of War.

This is a pamphlet of 48 pages, replete with interesting facts, striking generalizations, and rather florid commentaries. The Secretary begins with a review of the military and political situation at the beginning of the last session of Congress, with elaborate details of the dispositions of our forces, their organization and commanders.

On the 1st of May, 1864, the total force in service was 970,710 men. Of this the available proportion was 662,346 men. On the 1st of March 1865, this grand aggregate was within about 5,000 of the same number, but the available force was less by about 60,000 men. By the 1st of May, however, the grand aggregate was 1,000,516 men.

The war appropriations of the last session amounted to Sols 240,13[illegible],70. The estimates for the current fiscal year are for $33,814,461,83—based on a standing force of 50,000 men, organized as a basis for 82,600.

Eight volumes of reports of battles have been sent to the Government Printing Office. Many more are to come, for which the requisite data are not yet at hand.

The disbursment of pay in the field has been effected at a cost of less than three-fourths of one per cent., including all losses and expenses. Of white troops, 1,051,423 cases have been treated in hospital during the war, of whom the mortality was eight per cent. Over seven hundred transports on the ocean have been constantly employed by the Quartermaster's Department, with a loss of but three.

The burial records of the Quartermaster's Department do not include those who fell in battle and were buried immediately on the field. They show the interment in cemeteries of 116,148 persons, of whom 98,827 were loyal and 12,595 disloyal—95,803 were white, 20,345 colored. Between the 20th of April and the 8th of November, 1865, the Quartermaster's Department sold property to the amount of $13,357,344. The Military Academy at West Point is commended, and an additional number of cadets recommended. In the Bureau of Military Justice 16,591 records of general court-martial have been filed.

A revision of the law establishing the Freedman's Bureau is earnestly recommended, but no period is suggested for the termination of that institution.

The Newbern Times of the 4th inst., says that the new turpentine distillery just erected by Mr. Wm. G. Bryan, on South Front, near Muddy Street, was destroyed by fire on Saturday last at about 1 o'clock, P. M. The loss will not be over $1500, a portion of which falls on Messrs. E. W. Gould & Co., dealers in naval stores. The fire was the result of accident.

IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION,

For the Times, and all Times, to be Considered.

The first stone in the structure of life insurance was laid by the hand of the Almighty when he planted in the human heart the generous impulses of love and affection, which prompt us to provide for our own; but the keystone is this law of average to secure which we bind ourselves together, to bear each other's burdens, the stronger and richer, as the longer lives must be, helping the weaker and poorer brother that is cut down in early life, and by the universal law of compensation it gives us either the blessings of a long life, or the pleasing assurance of leaving a competency to our loved ones, as the films of death are curtaining them from our sight forever.

Times like the present make most manifest the peculiar benefit of life insurance. Business is interrupted. Men are anxious for the future. Thousands have families growing up around them whose property depends upon the continuance of the father's life. Should he die, the income would cease; the children must be withdrawn from school; the mother and elder children must resort to every expedient to sustain the family; and, in many cases, with the utmost exertion, this can not be done; the wife will return to her father for support, and the children, separated, must go, the older to seek work, and the younger be distributed among friends. Such reverses befall men the least expecting them. While business is active, and prosperity gives exhilaration and hope, men can hardly be made to feel that they are within a hand's breadth of utter reverse, and that their families may be scattered in a month, by the death of the father. But hard times lead men to think of these things.

Now if a man has insured a sum of one, five or ten thousand dollars upon his life, this anxiety is removed. While he lives, he can support his family. If he dies, ample provision is made for them.

It is every man's duty to provide for his family. That provision must include its future contingent condition. That provision, so far as it is material, men ordinarily seek to secure by their own accumulations and investments. But all these are uncertain. The man rich to-day, is, from causes beyond his reach, poor to-morrow. A war in China, a revolution in Europe, a rebellion in America, overrule ten thousand fortunes in every commercial community. But, in life insurance there are no risks or contingencies. Other investments may fail. A house may burn down. Banks may break. Bonds and mortgages may be seized for debt, and all property may fall into the bottomless gulf of bankruptcy. But money secured to your family by life insurance, will go to them without fail or interruption, provided you have selected a sound and honorable insurance company. Of two courses, one of which may leave your family destitute, and the other of which assures them a comfortable support at your decease, can there be a doubt which is to be chosen?"

The benefits of life insurance are not confined to a provision for families, but are as numerous as the various circumstances of individuals. It enables a person to make a provision for a wife, a parent, a child, a friend or domestic, depending on him, and he lives secure, that while his industry is providing for their support, his savings are effectually guarding them against want in the event of his death, thus doing his whole duty toward them instead of only one half of it.

It enables a person to raise money on loans where real security can not be offered, to provide for the prompt payment of his debts in the case of his death, and to secure the eventual payment of doubtful debts.

By it a charitable individual may donate a legacy to some beneficent institution; or a congregation a support to their minister's family in case of his death.

It provides means to reimburse the sum expended in the purchase of any life estate, on the death of the person during whose life it is held; to remove incumbrances, payable on events connected with the termination of life; and secures the return of money paid for education, for capital embarked in business, or other advances made for children or others, in the event of their premature death; and, generally, it affords a certain indemnity against any pecuniary loss whatsoever, to which one individual may become subject, by reason of the death of another.

It is a subject, then, which concerns the poor as well as the rich, the man living on his income, the mechanic the farmer, the professional man, the merchant—in short all classes of the community.

Surely, such an institution deserves the countenance, the consideration and support of all reflecting men, and is doubly recommended, when it is considered how very small a sacrifice of some personal gratification, will secure, by its means, the independence and happiness of a family.

NEW GOODS.

New Line Opened! Market Two Trips a Week! Live's One!

A. CREECH HAS JUST RETURNED from the North, where he has bought and opened a large supply of

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

Embracing the various New Styles of the Season, together with Ladies' Cloaks, Long Shawls, Breakfast Shawls, Ladies and Misses' Goods, Ladies and Misses' Hoop Skirts, Ladies and Misses' Balmorals, Gentlemen's Boots and Shoes, Boys, Youths and Children's Boots and Shoes, Felt Hats, the Derby, the Dashaway, the Planter's wide brim, and other styles for Men's wear. Boys, Youths and Children's Hats. Wood and Willow Ware, Crockery and Glass Ware, and a superior lot of Family Groceries.

Take my stock altogether, I have one among the largest and most desirable and complete stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the City.

Now allow me to say that I bought my Goods to sell, and they must and shall be sold; but I don't expect to take a piece of poetry in one hand and a full grown humbug in the other and climb up in the clouds and fish out the birds of Paradise and gently bring them down with a paper stuck on their tail, "Selling out at cost! selling out at cost!" No, I deal in no such humbug. I keep no such a class of Goods. I keep no time worn shelf rubbed, defaced or dusty Goods—but so that you can rub it off with a knife. My Goods are all new, and of good styles, and I intend to sell them as low as anybody that bought goods with the expectation of paying for them, and the man that sold the goods to the man that don't intend to pay for them is a fool and the man that sells the is a rascal. Now this is plain talk, but 'tis no slip of the tongue. I mean what I say, and say what I mean. I have lived here and sold goods here for twenty years. I expect to remain here. I pay my taxes to support Institutions of the City, County and State. I expect to continue to do so. I respectfully ask my old customers, my old friends and new ones to call and examine my stock. I will deal with you honest and treat you right. If I don't sell you goods as cheap as you can buy the same class of goods elsewhere I don't expect you to buy. Call at the new brick building, house formerly occupied by French & Litchford as merchants and auctioneers.

A. CREECH.

at his old stand, where he will be happy to see them and sell them great bargains in his line. He would also call the attention of those of the Military Department wishing to purchase clothing, uniforms or citizens' dress, to the fact that they will find great bargains. In style and taste they cannot be surpassed by any in this city or any other. He deems it unnecessary to say any thing of his own skill in the Tailoring business, but it will suffice to say that his experience has not been for a few years only, but for the last 25 years. He therefore solicits a liberal patronage. Prompt attention will be given to persons wishing to have cutting done. Orders from a distance will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. Call at store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.
